Rediscovering our Divine Identity

It's significant that on the first Sunday in Lent in all 3 liturgical cycles – A, B and C – the gospel focuses on Jesus being tempted. Each of the three temptations touches on Jesus' identity as the Son of God, which had been revealed at his baptism: 'This is my Beloved Son in whom I am well pleased.' 'Secure in the knowledge of his divine identity, Jesus had the strength to overcome his temptations. We, too, are tempted to doubt our divine identity. We can so easily find our identity in what we do, in what we possess, in what other people think of us, instead of in who we are.' [1] We are invited to approach the weeks of Lent in the 'desert' of quiet times, rediscovering our divine identity. 'What if our Lenten ritual this year is to reclaim and re-treasure that which is of ultimate importance and infinite value – people, relationships, justice and compassion, forgiveness, beauty and time to reconnect with whatever renews our spirit and deepens our experience of love? In this process we will somehow find ourselves again. We will be more whole, more complete. [2] When we come home to the divinity in ourselves, the more open we will be to the divinity within the people God sends into our lives.' [1]

'The true purpose of all spiritual disciplines is to clear away whatever may block our awareness of that which is God in us and God in others.' [3] This could be our daily 'mantra' during Lent. Each day will reveal what it is that is blocking our awareness – variations on the themes of our need to be in control, our need to know all the answers. 'When the quest for certainty and control is pushed to the background, the possibility of wonder returns. Wonder provides a gateway to wise insight.' [4]

We begin Lent by blessing and being blessed by the ashes of the palms used in last year's Palm Sunday celebration. Do we see this as a 'doom and gloom' experience, or do we come filled with awe and wonder, knowing what God can do with dust?

'So let us be marked not for sorrow. And let us be marked not for shame.
Let us be marked not for false humility or for thinking we are less than we are,
but for claiming what God can do within the dust, within the dirt, within the stuff of which the world is made.' [2]
